Back in 1972 he started giving me all this information. He had told me that he wanted to focus energy from his level of consciousness downward to bring about an organization which would try to balance the physical and the spiritual energies toward bringing about physical healing on an individual level. Hopefully later on more on the national and international level and that it would affect not only the medical industry but possibly other areas in life as well. As it would expand in its organization and he said that the star of David, that the principle of the Star of David was, he was focusing the energy to the fifth and sixth level of the mental plane. He's on a very high spiritual level beyond the mental plane but he is focusing his energy through a group of physicians and spiritually aware individuals on the mental plane and in turn focusing their energy to individuals on the physical plane to begin doing the organizational work.

At the time that was happening in 1972 -----

People would come to me when the time was right and I would know or he would let me know. Then in August when I came up there (Kalamazoo area), pull this information out and leave it with you. Then at that time he was explaining that the Star of David was used as a focus because it represents the two triangles of life -- one of the energy coming downward as he and the Masters on the inner planes focus it down and then those receiving the energy on the physical plane begin to focus the energy upward. As these energies come into balance, it will create like a Star of David which would represent a spiritual awareness within the organization.

That is one of the basic fundamental principles behind the organization is its going to be based upon spiritual principles of balance in the physical to bring about a better sense of healing and by bringing about a balance of the physical, emotional and mental on the lower (which would be the triangle that is aimed upward) and a balance of the spiritual energy which is the triangle coming downward, you will come into perfect balance of man in balance and in health.

In the caduceus is the ancient symbol of the snake representing the kundalini and the column representing the shashumna (sp.) where the chakras are actually focused. The kundalini then is the force center coming up that shaft and he said that the only wanted one snake rather than the two symbolizing a spiritual awareness in the organization. It is working toward bringing about physical balance. He said if it had had two, it would be more aimed at the spiritual balance and right now the organization's purpose is for helping man to understand himself physically. Then the wings represent a certain spiritual power of an initiate in spiritual truths. A lot of it is based on what he told me -- ancient principles in Egypt and in India and he said that a lot of the people who would be coming into the organization (AMPRA) would have been knowledgeable and would have received initiation in Egyptian truth and in Indian truth in past lives. The symbol would symbolize the awareness that they have obtained in past lives and would be manifesting again in this lifetime to the organization. He put his initials on there AAM (Archangel Michael) as a focus of his own energy because he said he would be the one who would be the power behind the whole organization and just as he has tried for a long time to bring about a balance between the positive and negative energies on the physical planes and on planes beyond that so he's going to try to help bring it about in the medical and physical healing that has been so out of balance over the past few years.

Also, he said that there would be people coming in with designs of different types of surgical equipment and non-surgical healing equipment that would be a basis for the organization to work from. This would be one of the main goals is to organize people in an invention type principle of non-surgical healing instruments as well as simplifying some of the surgical instruments as well to make it less painful and less risky in surgery. He said that already over the last -- well he said since 1945 to 1948 -- is when the energy began to focus for these new inventions and he said that a lot of people are out there right now that have drawings, or whatever, of different types of equipment and inventions that they have come up with for healing but that they are afraid to present them to the world because of the ridicule they might receive because of the spiritual ideas that are presented. A lot of them have a lot of ideas, he said, that they have put down on paper, but they don't really understand it and it's going to take somebody to pull them out to get the ideas out of them and then to take those ideas and make them something useful in society because these people have the ideas but they don't know how to go about putting it on paper or making it something that is useful. It's going to take an organization to go out and contact these people to bring these instruments into being, then working with the medical industry to help them accept them as something that is very useful. This is the idea behind the research part of the organization is that this is where the funding money will come from is in the research area to help prove that these instruments are workable and can be better than the equipment that they have now.

Then he started showing me different things -- a lot of machinery I don't understand, but there was like a screen to detect problems in the chakra system and problems in the aura, problems in the double etheric body and then there were devices for measuring frequency levels, and changes in frequency levels in skin tissue which I don't really understand. He started showing me the different types of equipment that have already been focused down here where people had somehow received either a thought impression visually or whatever that had not done anything with it even if they had received it. So this is one of the main focuses for the organization is to do this with the equipment.
